

The place you'd rather be

Hua Hin, Royal Paradise

The town of Hua Hin is also the seat of His Majesty the King of Thailand's Summer Palace, and because Hua Hin is in the presence of the King, it means this resort is a quieter, more gentle place.

You'll find the resort located right on the beach, so close to the centre of this coastal town, everything you want is within easy reach. Picture yourself strolling through the winding streets, locals calling friendly greetings as they pass. Looking down over to the bay you can see the empty fishing boats bobbing idly in the midday sun. Not only is Hua Hin a family destination, it is also a spa destination and has six world-class golf courses just minutes from the hotel. Find time to indulge in the ultimate spa packages with full body treatments, aromatherapy and reflexology. Then visit the stunning Pa La-u Waterfall or maybe you'll explore the Butterfly Garden. But whatever you do, you must dine at the rooftop White Lotus restaurant on the 17th floor with its breathtaking views of the Gulf of Siam.
